Hi Mark just wanted to status you. I've got the pathfinder parts in hand and I'm having the shipping paperwork processed now. Hopefully I can ship them out here this week.

Also, I spoke with my project lead about the possibility of a NASA endorsement last week as we had discussed. He didn't think we could actually endorse a product though, for what it's worth, he did say you are free to advertise that we are partnering and/or using your hardware. So as far as the electrode work is concerned we can hold off on that. Perhaps down the road we can revisit.
